Good Workers Get Praise and Prizes

By SHALOM COHEN, Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — The working man and woman took the centre of the stage at the Ophel Theatre here today to receive the annual prizes awarded by the Histadrut for outstanding efficiency at work.

In the presence of the Prime Minister, Mr. D. Ben-Gurion, the 20 prize-winners from town and country, agriculture and industry, were each presented with a diploma and a cheque for 1,000 lires by the Histadrut Secretary General, Mr. M. Namir, M.K.

The prizes were given to individuals and groups, among them a woman of 70 and a new immigrant from Morocco.

Mr. Ben-Gurion, in high spirits, shook hands with them all and chatted with them as they received their prizes. He received a thunderous ovation at the end of his address. A number of the winners declared that they were going to donate their prizes to the Defence Fund.

"Only by living by our own labour, will our security be vouchsafed," Mr. Ben-Gurion declared. "The independence which we have made by the country, but it must never be forgotten for one minute that it was living on the labour of others."

More productivity councils will help abolish the export trade gap, Mr. P. Naphthal, Minister without Portfolio, declared in his address.

The contribution of the Histadrut's 150 productivity councils to the country's economic independence was stressed by Mr. Namir. The prize-winners had been selected from 148 nominations submitted by the councils, trade unions and work committees.

The prizes were awarded as follows:

Agriculture
A group of shepherds of Ezer Hared (Judea) had been given a record of 100 sheep, twice as much as the national average.

A group of dairywomen and greenhouses of Kibbutz Shalom, which reached the highest average annual milk production in the country.

Industry
A group of the plant in Akko, which in the space of two years acquired production records with experienced workers.

A group of dock workers of Haifa, who set up a national record for the maximum production of cotton in an eight-hour day.

Other
Gerta Gutierrez, of Kibbutz Giv'at Ze'ev, who set up a national record for the maximum production of cotton in an eight-hour day.

Chief of Productivity Institute Resigns

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Dr. Bertram M. Gross, Director of the Productivity Institute, announced today his resignation to the Minister of Labour, Mr. P. Naphthal.

Dr. Gross, who was appointed to the post in 1953, said he was resigning because he could not get the necessary support from the Government.

It is understood that various disagreements have developed as to productivity methods between Dr. Gross and the Minister of Labour.

Immigration Figure Doubled in 1955

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A total of 20,000 immigrants entered Israel in 1955, compared to 10,000 in 1954, it was announced yesterday.

In addition to the immigrants, 1,500 tourists entered the country in 1955, compared to 1,000 in 1954.

The number of immigrants entering Israel rose by 25 per cent in 1955 to 20,000 as compared to 16,000 in 1954.

A total of 27,500 Israelis went abroad in 1955 for visits, business, missions and study, a 10 per cent increase over 1954 when only 25,000 went.

IL150,000 Flood Fund
A IL150,000 fund has been set up to aid local authorities and cities hit by floods, local authorities are to receive grants while the State will give large quantities of water since consumers will be charged by the amount actually consumed and not by the room as is practiced in many countries.

Oil Drilling Resumed
At Heletz and Negba. Drilling in the South has been resumed after the interruption caused by the rains and work is going ahead at full speed. 100 feet, and at Heletz 1,000 feet, from which level drilling will continue with smaller-gauge pipes.

The drilling platform has been assembled and drilling can now commence. The Heletz well is drilling 4,000 feet. New experts are optimistic about finding oil in view of the similarity of the geological formation to that of Heletz.
